Leo men are dominating. They love to be in bossy and commanding positions. They might also have traits of playboy, especially if wealthy. A Leo male takes nothing seriously and hence, can be irritating at times. He is extremely possessive, to the extent that he may feel offended even if his wife talks to another male. A Leo man can be a hypocrite and also bully others. If left on his own, he can turn into a true tyrant or dictator. He loves to show off and wants to have permanence in life, the latter turning into stubbornness at times.

There is an urgent need to get noticed in Leo males. The worst thing you can do to them is to ignore or overlook them. In such a case, they can become very insecure. Leo men love flattery and pampering them is the best way to get anything done. Leo and independence are synonymous to each other. They also love taking responsibilities and would execute the task with perfection. A Leo male is fond of power and loves to have superior positions in life. He will also contribute in works of charity and take pleasure in working for advancement and uplift of humanity.

Aries Woman

For an Arian woman, gaining independence and reaching the zenith at work is the primary focus. Challenges are very well accepted and also overcome by her. Aries woman hates being forced to stay idle and would not settle down until she is satisfied with her accomplishments. Aries females are very lively and active. They fall in the category of those individuals who do not like to be bossed around. Aries females are contemporary, in terms of style as well as thought process.

Good-cultured, well-mannered and highly educated men stand a fair chance of wooing an Arian woman. She loves to enjoy intelligent conversation. At the same time, she deems it very important that her partner is well dressed and shies away from any kind of rough behavior. An Aries woman would make a splendid wife for a person who is ambitious, independent and beaming with energy. She gets attracted to the strongest and the best looking man, ignoring the most important quality i.e. the psychological framework of a person.

Arian women make great communicators as they love talking. They are also adept at striking the perfect balance in both, personal and professional life. It might be surprising, but Arian woman make a better wife only if she is working or has some outside interests. This is because sitting idle doesn't suit her well, damaging her individuality. She might get jealous at times, making herself extremely unhappy. An amazing will power makes an Arian female overcome all her flaws to enjoy a better life.

Aries and Leo

The union of Aries and Leo is a match of two people of same caliber and same characteristic. Both of you are always on a go and are craving for fun, excitement, love and fun. Vibrancy is prevalent mutually in Ram and Lion. Leo is generous and good hearted, while Aries is open to life – a combination sure to make wonders with a little bit of work and compromise. Ego runs high in the minds of Aries and Leo, just as their craving for being the center of attraction.

Aries and Leo are characterized with an outgoing, extrovert, warm and vibrant personality. While the Leo is creative, Aries is energetic and enthusiastic which makes the combination all the more lovely and exciting. Arian individuals are least concerned about anything; Leo's on the other hand, are very particular about their public image. They need to share their power and allow the other partner to have his say. There is no stopping extravagant nature of the couple as both are spendthrift and love luxury of life.

Aries Woman & Leo Man
